HEATHER GREENE CEO & MASTER BLENDER

Celebrated whiskey expert, Heather Greene, believes that creating stunning whiskey starts with the whiskey consumer in mind, always. It must taste good. From there, she gently harnesses the sun, the sky, the grains, the stills, the casks, and people to make seriously award-winning whiskeys.

Under her creative direction as both CEO and Master Blender, Milam & Greene quickly became one of the most awarded and buzzed-about whiskeys in America, winning “Best in Show” for the Port Finished Rye at ACSA and Gold and Double Gold medals for their Bourbons.

Before joining the company, Greene honed her whiskey blending skills while evaluating Scotch whisky for the Scotch Malt Whisky Society in Scotland, as well as while working with numerous distilleries around the globe before bringing her talent to Milam & Greene in 2018. She has helped many beloved brands behind the scenes become major players. She is the author of New York Times shortlisted “Whiskey Distilled, A Populist Guide to the Water of Life”, was inducted into the inaugural class of the Order of the Writ in Kentucky, gained recognition as an innovative CEO in the whiskey industry and selected as one of Imbibe Magazine’s 75 People to Watch in 2020.
